Chicago, Ill., April 23.-George Phillips stood near the corn pit on the Board of Trade Tuesday, and smiled over as sweet a revenge as speculator ever enjoyed. He saw dozens of the agents of millionaires, who a month ago swore to crush him, rush into the pit, frantic with the desire to buy back, at 10 cents more on the bushel, the mountains of corn they had Phillips is selling his "long" corn, and on each bushel he makes a good profit. Despite his sales, the price goes up. Tuesday it reached 47 cents a bushel.

Phillips is "long" of an enormous quantity, but there is an enormous demand for it. Those who have sold "short"—sold corn they did not have—were so anxious to buy Tuesday morning that the corn pit pre-sented a scene soldom, if ever, equalled. Phillips's Big Holdings.

Phillips has bought since his bull campaign started last December 10,000,000 bushels. He still holds under contract more than 2,000,000 bushels, as much as will be in the elevators at the end of May.

As fast as he sells this he buys more corn to be delivered at a later date, July and September. Traders predict that when June comes it will be found that Phillips has sold his May corn at big profits and has bought enormous quantities to be de-livered in the later months, which he will again sell for larger profits. The men who sold corn to Phillips called on him to deposit in cash 10 per cent of the amount of his purchases Monday night. He did so, although the amount was in the hundreds of thousands. Tuesday morning, as the price again went up, part of the ey was withdrawn.

Oats also, in which Phillips has loaded Oats also, in which Phillips has loaded up heavily, went up Tuesday morning.
One of the millionaires on whom Phillips has had revenge is Charles A. Patten, the new Mayor of Evanston. Mr. Patten has bought millions of bushels of corn from Phillips at several cents more per bushel than the price for which he sold it to Phillips. He is no longer "short."

STOCK MARKET ELATION.

New Reports.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

New York, April 23.—A rather uneventful day, comparatively, was enlivened by two vell-authenticated reports.

The first is, that the Standard Oil Company will run its stock up to $1,000 and in-crease the capital stock from $100,000,000 to $250,000,000. The second is, that the Amalgamated Cop-per Company has, by an old-time trick, floated $25,000,000 of the new stock, with which to cover the purchase of the Boston and Montana and the Butte and Boston Copper companies; and that the Amalga-

Copper companies; and that the mated Company will grow to still greater The stories, which the action of the stock market appear to confirm, have further earmarks of truth in this, that the stock-holders of the Standard Oil are heavily interested in Amalgamated Copper.

It is asserted, on excellent authority, that the plan of the Standard Oil Company is to wait until its stock is worth $1,000 a share—the par value is now $100—and that then the trust will take on an increased capitalization.

After the Constitution has been properly framed and adopted, the economic question will disappear, as there must be a great reduction in the duty on sugar. Then Caba will be prosperous, and its relations with the United States settled on a solid basis. PUBLIC REJOICING AT FLOOD'S ENDING.

Numbers of Places in Ohio Are Celebrating by Ringing Bells and Firing Cannon.

Cincinnati, O., April 23.-The Weather Bureau announces to-night that the river will become stationary here some time Wednesday, and that it will not exceed 58 feet, or eight feet above what is known as the danger line.

The water reached the first floor of tenement houses along the river front at 45 feet, but it does not reach any of the business ouses below 50 feet.

Water in the tenement houses along the river front, known as "Sausage row," row," etc., is now over ten feet deep from the first floors, and will likely be over thirteen feet deep from the first floors to-morrow. These tenements are so densely packed that there is no room in the upper stories for extra lodgers.

The people were removed from the first floors yesterday, and from the second floors to-day. Coal and lumber yards along the river, as well as warehouses in the lower part, are submerged, but will suffer com-paratively little loss because of the warning from the weather bureau.

While the Ohio River is reported as falling to-night from Pittsburg to the mouth of the Big Kanawha, almost 300 miles, there is still much distress from that point to Cin-cinnati, about 200 miles. The Weather Bu-reau still predicts that there will be still less trouble below this city. While alarmmouth, Huntington, Catlettsburg and inter-mediate points to-night, the Weather Bureau says the outlook is really encouraging and that the beginning of the end will reach Cincinnati Wednesday, when the stage will not exceed 58 feet.

In some of the smaller places bells were rung and cannons fired and jollification neetings were held when the stationary stage was reached. Preparations are being made for demonstrations of rejoicing throughout Pomeroy Bend Wednesday.

The bill provides that the President of the Board of Public Improvements may, with the approval of the Mayor, appoint one Smoke Inspector and not more than five assistant inspectors to enforce smoke abatement ordinances and to prosecute, by sup-plying charges and evidence to the City Attorney, all violations of the law. The Inspector's salary would be $1,900 per year and each deputy would receive no more than $1,000 per year.

and each deputy would receive no more than $1,000 per year.

The Inspector's term would extend to the first Monday in April, 1903, or until his successor would be appointed. From the first Tuesday in April, 1903, the term of the Inspector would last four years. The Inspector's office would be located in the City Hall, or wherever else the Mayor might elect.

Mr. Reiss spoke against the bill. "I agree with Mayor Wells," he said, "about inspectors. I believe we should not create any new offices of this kind. It is best to do away with all inspectors. Why not do away with useless officials and have the police do the inspecting?"

"Do you think," inquired Speaker Cronin, "that policemen should go up on the roofs and examine the smoke?" Mr. Reiss smiled. "Do I understand you to vote 'no'?" Speaker Cronin asked. "Put me down for 'no," Mr. Reiss answered.

The second bill imposes penalties for discharging dense smoke. Councilman Gibson stated, after submitting his resolution, that he had investigated legislation on the smoke nuisance and that he is of the opinion that valid ordinances now exist, but are not enforced. His resolution seeks information from City Counselor Schnurmacher about present ordinaces.

The recital of this rather dry testimony by a civil engineer, an exhaustive examination of Medical Examiner W. B. Swan, who made the autopsy, and who produced in court a section of Grogan's rib, by which it was proposed to show the course of the bullet, and a searching cross-examination by Counsel Charles R. Bartlett, who accounted for the whereabouts of the fatal bullet during every moment from the time it was removed from the body until produced in court Tuesday, took up the greater part of the day.

In his opening address Mr. Sanderson revealed some bits of evidence entirely new.

Mr. Sanderson declared Mr. Eastman once told Mr. Grogan something about his eyes troubling him and the latter said it was probably due to the fact that he had been out with a girl. Later Mrs. Grogan came in and Eastman said to her. "Dick is accusing me of being out with a girl."

The movements of the two men from early morning of the day of the shooting was rehearsed in detail: Grogan spending part of the morning in Brookline, Eastman shooting alone in the hen yard; the two families dining together in the Grogan house, then attending the swimming races at Captain's Island, and returning about 5 o'clock. he was dragged to the porch, where the rope was made fast and he was thrown over. The rope broke, and he landed on the stone steps forty feet below. steps forty feet below.

As quick as lightning 100 pistols flashed a stream of fire, and lead was pumped into the negro at a rapid rate. His body is literally riddled with bullets.

The mob was composed of the best citizens of that portion of the county where the crime was committed, and no one wore a mask and none attempted to conceal his identity.

Sheriff wanted to call the Coroner, but the leader of the mob very politely, but impressively, told him to let the dead man stay where he was until 10 o'clock in the morning. The mob then quietly dispersed.

After the negro was pronounced dead the

DEFENDS MISSIONARIES.

Minister Conger Says That They Did Not Loot.

Victoria, British Columbia, April 23.—In an interview with the Kobe Herald, Minis-ter Conger, who is on his way to San Francisco, says:

"There are really no acts on the part of the missionaries there that were not entirely justified, when the circumstances are known. Missionaries did not loot. Missionaries found 2,000 destitute men and women on their hands, and they simply commandeered food for them." Francisco, says: "Big Four" to Buffalo and Cincinnati.
